

Sample Annotated Bibliography

Wadood, A., Khan, A., & Khan, H. (2020). Belonging to nowhere: A phenomenological study of the identity crisis of the second generation of Afghan refugees in Baluchistan, Journal of Business and Social Review in Emerging Economies, 6(3), 1139-1147.

<https://doi.org/10.26710/jbsee.v6i3.1379>

(1) This study investigates the identity experiences of second-generation Afghan refugees in Baluchistan, Pakistan. (2) Specifically, the study explores how these refugees feel about their identity as refugees. (3) Employing qualitative methods, including focus group discussions, secondary data, and semi-structured interviews, the study explores how these refugees perceive their Afghan identity and their comfort in expressing it during social interactions. (4) The source is credible as it is published in a peer-reviewed journal and uses a combination of focus group discussions, secondary data, and semi-structured interviews to enrich the study. (5) This article is relevant to my research as it examines the Afghan identity crisis prevalent within the diaspora community in Baluchistan. (6) I will use the article to investigate common identity crises in the region.

Description:

- Sentences 1 and 2 highlight the purpose of the research.
- Sentence 3 explains the methodology and further elaborates on the purpose of the research.
- Sentence 4 comments on credibility of the source
- Sentences 5 and 6 describe how the article is useful for the researcher